Press Release

Uttar Pradesh Combined Pre Medical Test (UPCPMT 2014) was organized by King George Medical University Lucknow. The examination was scheduled for Sunday June 22, 2014 from 9 to 12Noon. About over One Lac Nine thousand students were appearing in the examination in 213 centers in 15 different cities of Uttar Pradesh.

On June 22, 2014 about 6:30AM teams were advised to move to State Bank of India in various cities to obtain the question papers from its strong room. At Ghaziabad the our KGMU officer detected that one of the box was damaged and informed the CPMT Head Office KGMU Lucknow. Taking cognizance of the matter it was decided that in all the cities the alternative question papers kept at Allahabad Bank strong rooms may be used. Hence all the teams in 15 different cities were instructed to move to Allahabad Bank strong rooms. However in Ghaziabad it was found that one box in Allahabad bank strong room was also damaged. District Magistrate Ghaziabad was called to inspect it who confirmed his suspicion that boxes may have been compromised.

Though there is no evidence of any paper leak but on the premise of damaged boxes and considering the sensitivity of the examination and on the suspicion of tampering of question paper boxes and in the interest of fair conduct of examination, it was decided that, the present examination should be rescheduled and today's examination CPMT 2014 was called off at 9AM in all the centers. KGMU stands committed to conduct of fair and honest examination.
