Agenda : "Perceptions on the Quality System at KGMU"

Hon'ble Vice Chancellor Dr Bipin Puri, repeated his goal for attaining A++ grade in NAAC and assured to provide all support from administration for infrastructural and human resource related gaps. He stressed that each department must undergo SWOT analysis.

Professor Divya Mehrotra, Dean Q and P, presented a report on the activities of IQAC till date and expressed that attainment of quality benchmarks and their implementation is must, if we want to excel in areas of teaching learning, research or administration. She also suggested the areas where university should focus.

Professor Uma Singh, Dean Academics, focused on the necessity of Examinations Audit.

Dean Dental Sciences, Professor Anil Chandra, talked about implementation of measures like Early clinical Exposure, foundation course, summer training, students exchange program, outdoor activities and 6 monthly meeting with parents for the BDS students.

Dean Nursing, Dr Apjit Kaur shared that they promoted research culture among their faculty members with a positive outcome, have appointed visiting faculty to overcome permanent faculty posts and developed a successful model of Peer mentoring and counselling sessions for their students.

Dr Atin Singhai, Vice Dean, Institute of Paramedical Sciences, presented their achievements and apprised that they are focusing on overall development of students successfully.

Professor Shally Awasthi, Dean Research suggested that faculty should not work in silo. We should exchange our ideas with other disciplines and promote collaborative research. Clinical research must be promoted instead of fancy research in basic sciences to maintain a balance between patient care and research.

Professor A Mahdi, COE, stated the need of developing a system for evaluation of the assessment process of the University periodically for cross checking its fairness and objectivity.

Professor Rani Kant, director, AIIMS, Rishikesh, stressed on the need of evaluation based on clinical vignettes. He said that student must clear soft and hard skills before promoting to the next step. He also emphasized the need of sharing best practices instead of digging the all new well.

Professor Sanjeev Mishra, Director AIIMS, Jodhpur, stressed on the need of good quality teachers to build quality for better outcome and also suggested that good teachers must be awarded.

Professor Sandeep Kumar, Director, AIIMS, Bhopal, stressed the need of assessing the quality of patient care in terms of proving critical lifesaving procedures within golden hours like craniotomy, intercostal drainage, making definitive diagnosis, prioritizing or triaging patients etc. He emphasized to work on the causes of tertiary care delay and find remedies to improve the quality patient care.

Finance Officer, Mr Kamlesh stated that we have to work on improving the income/ funds generated by university, which was expected to be 90 crores in 20-21 but we could generate only 27 crores. We have 96% funding from state government for our needs and have 100% support for salary and allowances. He felt the need of support of IT cell in several sects of financial management to improve its functioning and quality. He also emphasized that lack of knowledge of various rules and regulations delay the process of proper utilization of funds. Heads of various departments and employees must be made aware of these SOPs by attending repeated trainings.

Justice Sahai, said that KGMU must strive hard to provide services of global standards. He also suggested to strengthen the departments of general surgery and general medicine, the departments responsible for catering 80% of patients.

Professor Arun Chaturvedi, Head Department of Surgical Oncology, spoke that motivation of faculty towards quality is essential and usually it comes from inside. He said that proper functioning of infrastructure and human resources is mandatory for quality outcome. He stressed that an effective leadership must ensure that clinicians should utilize their energy towards patient care and teaching rather in administrative and other non-productive choirs. And lastly, he proposed that level of students satisfaction is one of the parameter which tells us, how good are we performing. Therefore, we must build a system for it and work accordingly.

Professor Anita Rani, Vice Dean Q and P, proposed vote of thanks and stressed the need of incorporating all suggestions in the future plan of the university.
